Dear Friends and Colleagues,

On behalf of WAS, I wish you well for your forthcoming Conference. Such meetings play a very important role in promoting sexual health, sexuality education and sexual rights. To share information and research findings with colleagues is both a professional obligation and an enriching experience for all of the participants.

We value our continuing relationship and the work undertaken by the Centre for Family Life Education. Your global contribution to sexuality education, particularly in the provision of age-relevant publications, demonstrates your commitment to ensuring happy, healthy relationships. This is supportive of the achievement of sexual rights for all, a mutually held value for WAS and CFLE.

Congratulations to the Conference organisers and I trust you have a successful and enjoyable twenty-eighth meeting.

Sincerely

Prof. Kevan Wylie
President of the WAS
