

September 14, 2012

Bill Taverner, MA, CSE
The Center for Family Life Education
Planned Parenthood of Central and Greater Northern New Jersey

Dear Bill,

The 27th Annual Conference of the Center for Family Life Education is the latest example of CFLE's leadership role in the field of sexual health. A look at the program's speakers and topics tells you all you need to know about CFLE's influence and central position in our field. CFLE publishes sexuality education teaching manuals that are used worldwide. CFLE's manuals are all of the highest quality and are highly respected in our field. From the first edition of Positive Images and Teaching Safer Sex, CFLE's manuals have been a treasured source of material for sexuality education strategies for youth, adults, and professionals. These manuals are research-based, teacher friendly, and cutting-edge. The learning activities are relevant, energizing, thought-provoking, and make learning fun, both for the educator and students. In addition, CFLE's educators are always a welcome and worthy addition to anyone's conference, presenting the latest information and teaching strategies in a professional and enjoyable manner.

SSSS is proud to have a strong working relationship with CFLE as we strive to improve the sexual health of people of all ages.

Best wishes,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Joe Fay".

Joseph Fay, MA, Executive Director
Society for the Scientific Study of Sexuality